

BOB TAYLOR ON GLORY OF TEXAS

Bob Taylor gave the following toast on the "Glory of Texas":

"Did you ever rise from your slumbers early enough to witness the dawn of day, when the morning comes forth from her place in the sun and unfurls her banner of light on the horizon and hides the morning star in her bosom? This is the emblem of the glory of Texas. How many times have you sat on your veranda in the hush of the dying day, and watched the cloud isles of twilight drifting in the seas of sunset gold? That is the symbol of the harvest time in Texas and the milkyway is the shadow of the heaven of her cotton fields and the angels dip water from her artesian wells with the dipper of stars which hangs on the sky, and the man in the moon is a shining picture of her great governor."

"I have thought many times I would make a pilgrimage from her eastern line to her western boundary, but her domain was too wide, and life too short. The engine awlays faints from exhaustion, tarantulas got in the whiskey and I sighed for rest."

"Texas is the largest waffle on the griddle of North America. She is sweetened with the honey of happiness, pouring from the bungalow of prosperity, and buttered with pure democracy. Woe to the prince or potentate who sticks a fork in Texas. Mexico tried it once and bent double with a spell of San Jacinto. The honey of Texas is poison to tyrants, and bees sting to death the invaders of her soil; but those who love her and are loyal to the Lone Star that lights the pathway of her destiny, her cities, towns and hamlets, are bee hives of hospitality, rich with the honey comb of smiles and welcomes."

"The land of Jackson sends greetings to the land of Houston."

"May God bless Tennessee, and may God bless Texas. When I was a barefooted boy, away up among the mountains where nature sings her sweetest songs and bawling brooks laugh in the sunshine and laugh in the shadow, I used to sit on the bank of the river and watch the caravans of covered wagons creeping like mammoth snails with shells on their backs, southward bound to the wilderness of Texas. I did not dream then that the ragged, rosy cheeked children who crowded under the wagon covers were prophecies of wealth and power of the greatest empire on the continent. But so it was. The caravans landed their precious freight in the wilds of Texas. The blue smoke began to curl upward from the cabins of the pioneers; the burnished plowshare began to slice the broad prairies like a knife slicing a continent of hot butter, the reaper like a plantain ship began to sweep across amber seas of grain; the Texans who had won the independence of heroes who had won the independence of Texas, and there were more cabins on the prairies; and another generation was born whose vigor and strength has given increased power to this mighty commonwealth."

Doctor's Question.

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchasers money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c, and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. John E. Jackson, Druggist.

Charity Stamps

Regarding the pasting of "Christmas" or charity stamps on Christmas parcels, postmasters have received special instructions from the postoffice department with a request that the patrons of the postoffices be informed of the rules and regulations governing the sending through the mails of packages bearing such stamps.

In the United States there will be no trouble whatever by the stamps being pasted upon the packages though all senders are warned not to stick the stamps over the strings of the packages for if they do they cannot be given the regular merchandise postage rates, but instead, will be compelled to pay the first class rate postage the same as is charged for all sealed packages. The government holds that a sticker or seal over the strings on a package places it in the class of sealed matter.

Three foreign countries, Guatemala, Uruguay, and Portugal positively refuse to accept any packages which are labeled with "Christmas" or charity stamps, while the majority of other countries will accept them only on conditions that the stamps are placed on the reverse side of the package. All packages bearing the charity or "Christmas" stamps that are contrary to the rules and regulations of the different countries, will be returned to the sender, provided the parcel bears the name and address of the party who sent it.

T. R. HAS BEEN ELIMINATED AGAIN

New York, Dec. 3.—"The recent election, I think, eliminated Theodore Roosevelt as a serious factor in national politics." This was the declaration to the United Press today of Governor Thomas Marshall of Indiana who came on to New York to tell the Indiana Society of New York at its annual dinner last night that Hoosierdom is still above par.

"Two years ago," Marshall said, "the Eastern newspapers jumped all over me because I said that Roosevelt put Taft in the presidential chair in the hope that he would make a poor executive and thus prepare the way for his own return to the presidency. I said then that Roosevelt would come back from Africa and start a big burrah, and I was called a two by four Western politician. Well, Roosevelt did just what I said he would do."

"And I think it was a mighty lucky thing that the election went against him, for after all is said the election was a Roosevelt defeat. Had the Republicans been successful the second chapter of Roosevelt's program would have been attempted."

"Has any Democratic presidential sentiment developed since the election?" the governor was asked.

"I don't believe there has," he replied. "Of course, there are a lot of 'favorite sons' being groomed for the race. Every time a man is fortunate enough to be elected governor of his State he immediately becomes a presidential possibility to a few of his friends. It's a wise man who doesn't take these efforts too seriously. As for myself, I am governor of Indiana and nothing else. I am going to stay right on the job until my term is over and not try for anything else. My only ambition is to leave the governor's chair with the reputation of having made a fair and honest executive. I am not a candidate for anything."

"Democratic presidential aspirants should keep this in mind: The 1912 nominee must have a united party behind him, if he is to be successful. All the factions of the party must come together, and we had better begin right now the welding process." Although Indiana may not have rolled up the heaviest Democratic majority in the recent upheaval, Governor Marshall characterizes the victory there as the most decisive in the country.

"In Indiana, the Democrats were fighting the highest brand known of Republican insurgency, represented by Senator Beveridge. We were fighting the very best that there is in the Republican party and we won out because Indiana Democrats and many Republicans were convinced that the 'real insurgency,' the real protest against wrong conditions, was represented by the Democracy. Beveridge made the mistake of appealing for Democratic votes. He should have known that no Indiana Democrat will ever vote for a protectionist. He will stay away from the polls first."

"There is absolutely no question but John W. Kern will be elected Senator to succeed Beveridge."

"What about the fight between Kern and Senator Shively?" "That was about as badly exaggerated a tale as ever sprung by a politician. Kern and Shively are good friends and in political harmony and there never was any real basis for the story that Kern charged his defeat two years ago to Shively."

Governor Marshall doesn't want any more "governors conferences" in Kentucky.

"They are too hospitable down there," he said. "I had a cold all the while I was there and the only remedy for it proposed was mint juleps. As I couldn't drink the blamed things I was in a bad way. I went to the conference prejudiced against such gatherings and couldn't see that they could be productive of good. But I quickly changed my mind. It sounds rather stereotyped to speak of having one's viewpoint broadened, but these conferences certainly do this very thing."

"Will the Indiana delegation in Congress support Champ Clark for the speakership?" "Why, there's no other candidate is there?" the governor asked in reply.

Driver, How Is This?

"As a man sows, so shall he reap."—Gal. 6:7.

If you were smartly struck each time you strike your horse, would he get half as many blows as now?

Why inflict needless pain? Is it not contemptible to distress your horse with check rain, blinders, overloads, hunger, thirst?

Has not your horse as good a right to be happy at his work as you have? Why not?

Is an overworked, underfed, abused and discouraged horse more valuable than when he was happy, vigorous and ambitious?

Is not a hard or unkind driver penny wise and dollar foolish, and very mean withal?

Is it not unkindness to dumb animals a sure sign of cowardice, cussedness or ignorance, or all three?

The Bible says, "He shall be judged without mercy who has shown no mercy." Is not that just?

John Boyle O'Reilly said: "Some men deserve hell for their treatment of horses."

Majbor General Joseph Wheeler said "Cruelty to horses is unqualified wickedness, and is as mean and cowardly as it is wicked."
